

The Loves of my Life! My motorcycle, my daughter, my grandson and my granddaughter. (on her way !)

Paul Kruger

Paul Stephanus Kruger was born a long time ago on a rather alien planet called Johannesburg but grew up on a somewhat more hospitable one known as Pretoria.

He acquired, some say by devious means, the degrees BSc Eng (Industrial), MSc Eng (Industrial) and DSc Eng, and along the way an MBA, all from the University of Pretoria.

He has spent a large part of his useful life as a lecturer in the Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering at the University of Pretoria trying very hard to disseminate his meagre but hard earned knowledge amongst the engineering youth of South Africa.

Whenever he manages to abandon his beloved MS-Excel for a few hours he rides around on a BMW motorcycle, that he can not control, and cultivates thousands of little Clivias for no apparent reason.
