

Imke de Kock

Imke de Kock holds a bachelor's degree in engineering (Industrial), a master's degree in philosophy (Futures Research), and is currently a PhD candidate in Industrial Engineering. Imke is a professionally registered Industrial Engineer with international experience in the execution and management of industrial engineering and engineering management projects

