

Jacques Fauré (1st Vice-President)

As a conscientious young man, Jacques Fauré, made the decision to follow a career in Industrial Engineering, and since he has developed a furious passion for it, unconsciously living the principles in everyday life. As a dynamic team player, practising a servant leadership style he aims to enable the individual for the benefit of the team. Integrity, accountability and responsibility are of key importance to him.

He is adventurous, ambitious, a contagiously big dreamer and has a strong determination to make a positive difference. Arduous lessons from his professional experience also keeps him humble and securely grounded.

