

SPEAKERS

CLAIRE JANISCH

Director BiomimicrySA

Claire is the founding Director of BiomimicrySA, and as a Certified Biomimicry Professional, she translates nature's tried and tested innovation and sustainability principles for the design of regenerative and resilient processes, systems and policies. In 2009, 2010 & 2011, she was selected as one of the top 200 most influential young South Africans by the national Mail & Guardian newspaper. In 2012 she was a finalist in the Most Influential Woman in Business and Government awards within the Environment Sector

DANIE MOUTON

General Manager, Business of Tomorrow EXXARO Resources

Danie is an industrial engineer and strategist with over 25 year's experience in the mining, resources and energy industry. For the past 15 years he has had various roles in the Business Development area of Exxaro. The continuous search for new opportunities and improvement is what energises him, and he achieves this by successfully utilising the vast knowledge, skills, passion and creativity of the people he works with.

NTOMBIFUTHI NTULI

CEO South African Wind Energy Association (SAWEA) South Africa

Ms Ntombifuthi Ntuli is the South African Wind Energy Association (SAWEA) CEO. She previously worked for the CSIR; the Department of Trade and Industry; Green Industries and the DTI. Ntombifuthi holds a MPhil Degree in Energy Studies (University of Johannesburg) and a Certificate in Economic and Development Policy (University of Witwatersrand). She is an Alumna of the United States International Visitor Leadership Programme (IVLP) as well as the African Programme on Rethinking Development Economics (APORDE).

MARTIN SMITH

Technical Director, Expertise leader - Building services ZUTARI South Africa

Martin is an International Professional Mechanical Engineer. He is a Technical Director and the Building Services Expertise Leader for Zutari (Previously Aurecon). He is responsible for managing Mechanical and Environmentally Sustainable Design (ESD) services. Part of his role is to ensure that Zutari stays abreast with the latest global trends in the built environment, and to ensure Zutari's service offering is leading and in line with these trends.

